

Prof Frans Swanepoel

Professor Frans Swanepoel's current work focusses on Future Africa at the Centre for Advancement of Scholarship at the University of Pretoria (UP), South Africa. He is former Deputy Vice-Chancellor Research and Innovation, and Professor at the Institute for Poverty, Land and Agrarian Studies (PLAAS) at the University of the Western Cape (UWC), South Africa. He also served as Dean at UFH and was Director of the African Doctoral Academy at SU and Director of the Post-graduate School for Agriculture and Rural Development at UP.

He obtained all his degrees [BSc, BSc Agric (Hons) and MSc Agric] with distinction. He researched at Texas A&M University, USA and University of the Free State, SA for his PhD, and completed post-doctoral research in Australia. His research interest advanced to smallholder agricultural production systems, agricultural education and training (AET) and agricultural research and innovation leadership in Africa.

Prof Swanepoel currently chairs a consensus panel appointed by the Academy of Science of South Africa (ASSAf) on the revitalisation of Agricultural Education, Training and Research in SA. He serves in various capacities, including as Board Member, and previously as Vice-Chairperson and Acting Chairperson, on the Board of the Agricultural Research Council (ARC) in SA – ministerial appointment. He serves as board member of the Gates-funded African Women in Agricultural Research and Development (AWARD) initiative based in Kenya; and the continental Science Granting Councils Initiative funded by DfID and IDRC. He is also a member of South Africa's National Member Organisation to IIASA.